DESPERATE FIGHT IN A THEA-

LABEDO, Tex., June 30 .- During the ses sion of the last Legislature, Senator E. F. Hall bitterly attacked the efficiency and integrity of the State Ranger force, which, for years has guarded the frontier. The Senator was particularly severe in denunciation of those troops located in his district, which were under the immediate command of Captain Joseph Sheely. These attacks resulted in the final abandonment of Captain Sheely's command. Sheely had long been known as one of the bravest men on the frontier, and his departure was the cause of great regret. For ten months past, every male inhabitant along ten months past, every male inhabitant along the border has taken sides for or against the Rangers. The feeling between Hall and Sheely became intensely bitter: About eleven o'clock Saturday night Sheely sauntered into the gallery of Holland's theatre. Seeing Senator Hall sitting in the front row near an aisle, Sheely approached and struck him square in the face, with his open hand. He repeated this blow, when Hall succeeded in getting to his feet. Instantly both drew revolvers and began firing, Sheely retreating backward. A perfect panie ensued in the theatre, and people rushed wildly out on the street, to escape the flying bullets. Bystanders momently expected Hall to drop with a bullet, Sheely being famous as a dead shot. The Senator, however, faced his dangerous antagonist in the most desperate fashion, stepping forward and firing every time Sheely fired.

As Sheely reached the foot of the stairs Hall ran to the top and fired the last ball in his pistol. Sheely gave no signs of being hit, but pulled off his coat, and his shirt was red with blood. This explained why the Senator escaped with his life. In the duel Sheely had been wounded by the first bullet from Hall's pistol, thus rendering his aim uncertain. The ball entered the right shoulder, coming out just beneath the shoulder joint. the border has taken sides for or against the shots on each side were exchanged. Hall's clothing was perforated, while a bullet grazed Sheely's temple. The feud will undoubtedly be renewed as soon as Sheely recovers sufficiently. No arrests have been made. Other encounters, as the outgrowth of this difficulty, are likely to occur at any moment between the friends of the combatants. Nothing on the frontier in a long time has created such partisan feeling.

WHOLESALE LYNCHING.

Ewenty Horse Thieves and Outlaws Lynched in Texas-Terrible Scenes. GAINESVILLE, Tex., June 30 .- The lynchngs of five horse thieves are reported in adition to a recent report that fifteen men had been hanged in two weeks. Efforts to substantiate the last mentioned report resulted in positive proof of the hanging, a week ago near Heldtown, of Frank Morgan, Bill Williams and a boy named Moore, Bill Williams, a farmer living near Mud Creek, was suspected and persons were detailed to watch him. When it was learned that Willlams had unlawfully taken possession of another man's horse thirty-two determined men visited his house and arrested him.

Williams bade his family an affectionate farewell, and told them if he did not return in two days they might know he was dead.
Williams was then led several miles into some thick timber where they were met by another party having in charge Frank Morgan and the boy Moore. By a unanimous yote, the men decided to hang Williams and forgan. Some contended that by reason of the boy's youth it was best to turn him loose with a moderate punishment, but it was finally decided, as there was great probabilities of his becoming a trouble criminal, it was better he should die. Ac eriminal, it was better he should the. Ac-cordingly all were strung up on one limb. Some of the posse climbed upon the limb and pressed down upon the shoulders of the criminals in order that they might die cut down and buried together. The posse then started on a man hunt up to the Wich-ita River, and reports came back that they had captured and lynched nine more, thus making a total of twelve. The latter re-port, however lacks confirmation, and modes of communication are so uncertain that the facts are hard to get. The noted detective, Jack Duncan, at the head of a squad of well armed men, has gone to the Indian Territory in search of the outlaws, Jim and Hank Lee. He carries three well trained bloodhounds with him, which he will use when the trail is struck. It is learned that three other squads are also in the field on the same errand. The Lee boys have long been terrors to the Delaware Bend nave long been terrors to the Delaware Bend people. For the past few months they have been loafing around that section, stealing indiscriminately. CONSISTENT IDEAS.

The Republican Party Not Mistaken When It Charged That Cleveland's Election Would Place the Confederacy in the Saddle. · The Democratic and mugwump jour-

from the columns of that ardent mugwump organ, the New York Evening The Cleveland Leader (Republican) believes that "from present appearances. Mr. Cleveland's Administration is likely to bring about a dissolution of the hitherto Sold South."
And yet the chief Republican campaign cry was that the Confederacy would again "be in the saddle" if Cleveland was elected.

The Post evidently believes that it has Confederates are constantly selected to fill the most impor-tant positions, while Northern Democrats, who periled life and limi in defense of the Union, are treated with coldness and neg-lect. Men who fought against treason the Government they are now auxiou to serve for dollars and cents. Cleve land is a Northern man, and it is fair to ask how can these things be if the "Confederacy is not in the saidle," if it is not boote I and spurred to secure through the Administration a victory which it failed to win on the gory field of battle? Now a few words to the Leader's suggest on that Cleveland's Administration is likely to bring about a disruption of the solid Democratic South. In the article to which the Post allodes the Leader pointed out the almost universal desire of Southerners to hold office. The outrages, murders, rascalit es and frauds practiced through a long series of years to keep the South under Democratic domination had in view a time when enough Northern States could be won over to give the Southern leaders the whip hand in controlling the National Government. Men like M. C. Futler, Hampton, Lamar, Jonas, Bayard and Reagan lived for that, and have at last achieved their d sire. But the fraudulent victory they have gained is likely to be the cause of their final destruction. Heart-burnings and jealousies are everywhere apparent, an Administration from which they ex-pected much and receive nothing. The action of the Administration, let it be what it may, is sowing division in the ranks of the Southern Democracy and preparing several States to transfer their allegiance to the Republican party.
